SERVICE

WE ARE COMMITTED TO THE PRINCIPLES OF SUSTAINABILITY.

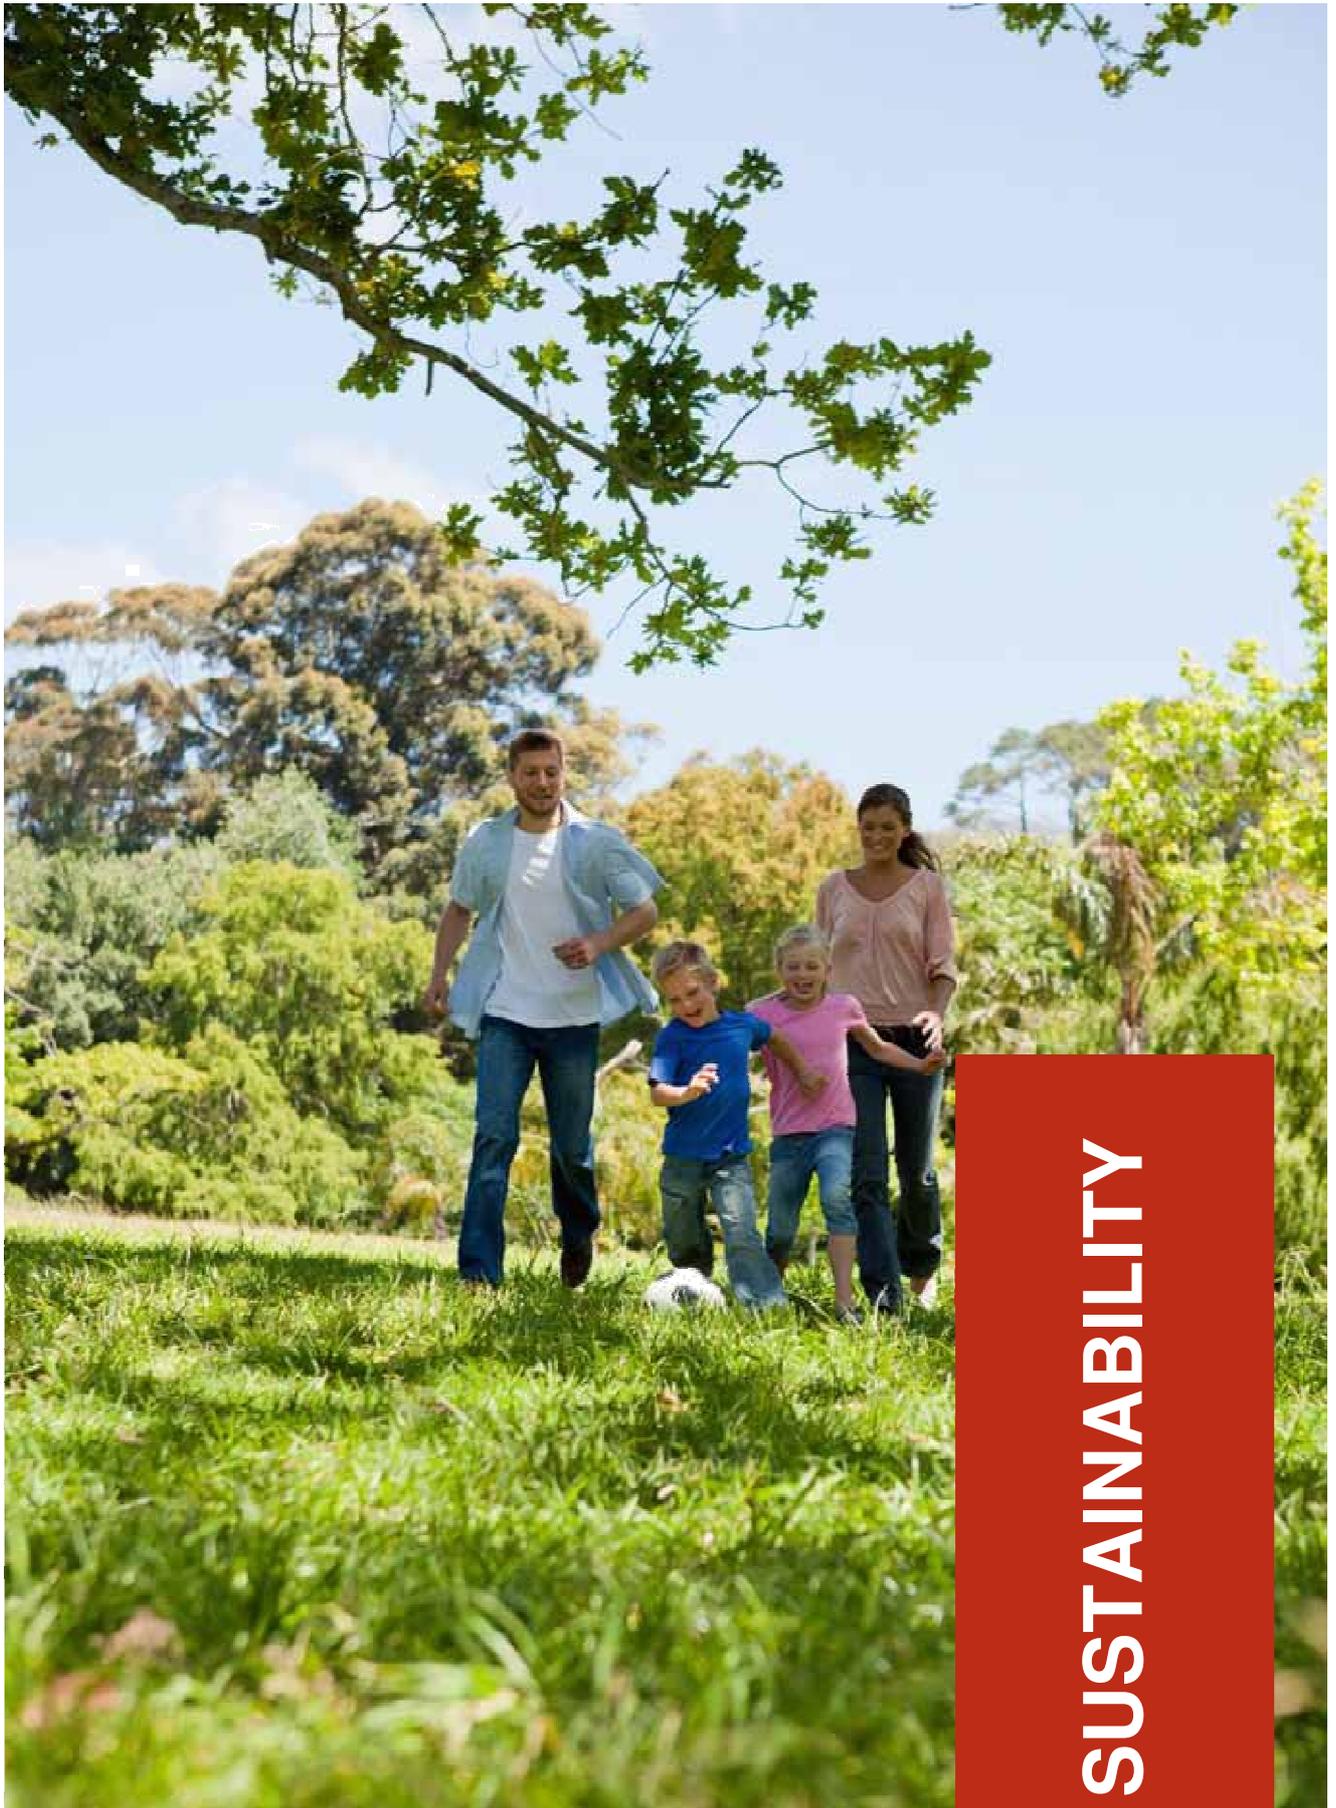

Our technical and commercial expertise means we are responsible to work for the benefit of people and to make a lasting contribution to environment and sustainable development. Because economy and ecology are objectives of equal standing for us in our company policy.

We aim at convincing our customers through performance, flexibility and an open dialogue. Our products contribute to the creation of long lasting, low maintenance buildings.

Through continuous further development, our sealing products are made to be environmentally friendly. They offer outstanding long-term durability, even under extreme weather conditions.

For many of our products, we have environmental product declarations (EPD's) in order to create the greatest possible degree of transparency towards our customers. In addition, assessments according to LEED and DGNB criteria are available for several products. Polyfin[®] membranes are free of PVC, plasticizers and halogens. The long service life of products in particular contributes to a good ecological profile. Compared to a bitumen seal, the lower material thickness results in a significantly reduced consumption of resources. Beyond that Polyfin[®] FPO membranes have such neutral properties that they can even be used for the lining of drinking water containers.

“WITH OUR PRODUCTS, THERE IS NO CONFLICT BETWEEN ECOLOGY AND ECONOMY.”
